Cafecito Mexican Coffee Shop, a coffee shop best described as the Mexican American experience in beverage form. The concept was born from one of many 3pm coffee runs with coworker and friend Claudia, a Colombian. Claudia and Kristel many times imagined a place where a delicious coffee was paired with a traditional pastry that would transport us to a fond memory tied to our Latin culture or cuisine. After much research, Kristel found this was nonexistent in Atlanta and sought to create this experience with the rapidly growing Hispanic population in mind. Cafecito now exists to cater to a community that values this one of a kind experience. An experience engrained in cultural traditions centered around the importance of connecting with each other over a cup of Cafecito.

Movement Consulting was founded by Dra. Nicole Cabrera Salazar after receiving her PhD in astronomy. Like many marginalized scientists, Dra. Nicole left her field due to a toxic work environment. Determined to make sure others never had to follow in her footsteps, she started a company to improve scientific workplaces for people from minoritized groups. We believe the world of science can be better – not in six months or ten years, but now. A world where marginalized people can thrive. A world that values scientists as whole human beings. A world where many worlds fit.
