

GHCC issues statement in support of Atlanta's Asian community

The Georgia Hispanic Chamber of Commerce expresses its strong support of and solidarity with its Asian-American friends in metro Atlanta and Georgia.

The GHCC statement was made by its Racial Relations Task Force through its Social Justice Committee.

Asian-Americans are one of the fastest-growing minorities in the state and a major contributor to its entrepreneurial spirit and economic success. Simply put, Asian-Americans make Georgia a better place.

Sadly, Asian-Americans in Georgia and across the nation have faced a raft of unwarranted criticism over the past year and have been the victims of an increasing number of violent attacks. As President Biden said recently, that kind of behavior is un-American and it must stop.

The GHCC enthusiastically and unequivocally supports the region's Asian-American community and urges all people to unite behind that sentiment

About the GHCC

Established in 1984, the GHCC is focused on advancing business formation, growth, and economic impact for Hispanics statewide through access to resources, education, and programming, as well as serving as an advocate for the community in all areas of business and government.
